2016 KCCS Facial Bone Contouring Surgery Workshop

Greetings colleagues,

Facial contour has become one of the most important procedures in the field of cosmetic surgery in recent years.

Practically, many kinds of procedures have been tried for facial contouring through invasive or non-invasive approaches, but I think osteotomy is the most basic idea for improvement of facial contour.

After attending this program, attendees will be able to master anatomy, osteotomy, procedure and post operation care for malar reduction surgery and mandibular reduction surgery that can improve facial contour.

I am looking forward to the participation of many doctors who has interest in bone surgery.

See you at the workshop!
